Eligibility for FOCA Certification

The applicant's principal place of business must be located in Switzerland for FOCA to be the competent authority for the certification of the USSP.

[1] Unique identifier (CHE-xxxxxxxx) available on Zefix.

[2] Administrative address of a company. It is the place where the management bodies take decisions. It is also where the company meets its administrative obligations (secretariat, invoicing…).

[3] The principal place of business corresponds to the premises in which a company mainly carries out its commercial activity. It operates a business or an activity there, and this is what differentiates it from the "address of registry". The "address of registry" can be the principal place of business, but this is not necessarily the case.

Fees

The review of this application is subject to fees in accordance with the FOCA Fees Ordinance (GebV-BAZL, SR 748.112.11). Fees are charged for the actual time spent on the review, at the applicable hourly rates specified in Section 5.1.5 of the SOUP (Systemic Oversight on U-Space Service Provision).

The fee obligation applies from the initial review of the application and is independent of whether the certification process ultimately results in the issuance of a certificate.
